

Streamline decisions by automating the work.

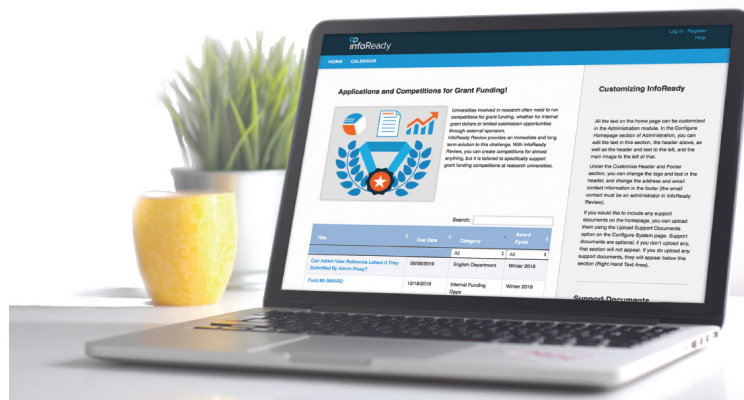

Using a manual system of emails, PDFs, and spreadsheets to collect, route, approve and track applications, forms, and other documents is tedious and time-consuming for all involved. And unnecessary.

InfoReady is a cloud platform your administrators configure to manage the collecting, routing, review, approval and tracking of forms, applications, and documents in a single, complete system without IT support.

InfoReady can be used to automate a wide range of graduate school application processes including fellowships, scholarships, awards, internal funding competitions, seed grants, travel grants, no-cost extensions and much more.

An investment in InfoReady can quickly pay for itself in the hours of staff time saved.

- Completely self-service so administrators with no IT experience can create and manage complex workflows.
- Run an unlimited number of competitions to reduce administrative time and cost, while standardizing data.
- One system simplifies tracking, reporting, management and oversight.

“Prior to InfoReady, we required extensive spreadsheets to track how a grad student was awarded funding...Now with InfoReady, we can quickly and easily look at each user and see how many times they applied or were awarded as well as their remaining eligibility.”

InfoReady handles the work to digitize, organize, and automate application and review processes in one system. To learn how InfoReady can help your institution, contact us at sales@inforeadycorp.com or visit inforeadycorp.com.

One Tool. Many Uses.

Here are some the of ways InfoReady is used across campus to streamline application, review, selection and approval workflows.

"We have been successfully using InfoReady for our college's internal grant programs. Without equivocation, the system is a game changer!"
